Dog bites three-year-old girl

Tuesday, March 13, 2007 - 07:51 PM
By: Charlene Close

Toronto - A three-year-old girl is being treated in hospital after being bitten in the face by a Golden Retriever.

The child was at her babysitter's house in the Thornton Road and Rossland Road area.

Police said the child was in the backyard when dog bit her on the cheek.

Initially, she was taken to Oshawa General Hospital, but has since been transferred to the Hospital for Sick Children. The injury is described as serious.

The dog is with animal control, police said.
