SEDGWICK — A 15-month-old girl was taken in critical but stable condition to Wesley Medical Center Friday night after being bitten in the face by a dog in Sedgwick, Newton Fire/EMS Battalion Chief Jerry Conyers said.

A Sedgwick ambulance crew was called to the scene about 6:30 p.m. where a labrador, possibly the family pet, had bitten the girl, Conyers said.

Newton EMS met the Sedgwick crew after a request for advanced life support and transported the girl to Wichita.

The girl's name was not released.

Conyers said as in most dog bite cases, the incident likely will be investigated by local law enforcement.
