February 9 - As many as 6 people in the UK have been injured following an attack by 2 Alsatian dogs.

The owner of the dogs from Bristol, has been arrested and faces charges.

Amongst the 6 injured people are 2 children who needed to be taken to hospital for treatment.

The dogs were running loose at the time of the attack, and have been rounded up by animal control workers.

It is believed that they managed to escape from their yard, at which time they launched their attack.

Police say none of the injuries are life threatening, lucky for the dogs' owner.
