WENATCHEE — An 8-year-old Royal City boy was treated and released from Central Washington Hospital on Wednesday night after suffering a dog bite to the groin.

The boy was playing outside with other children at an apartment complex on Western Avenue when the 8-month-old male pug started chasing them, said Sgt. Cherie Smith of the Wenatchee Police Department.

At about 8 p.m., the black-and-tan dog, named Georgie, attacked, Smith said.

The dog's owner was cited for "dog at large," she said.
